

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Borgo announces release of EP, Demolition!

Hot on the heels of his debut LP, Be Kind, Borgo (Brian Bourgault) offers four fresh tracks on Demolition!, set for release on August 31 at all digital outlets, with iTunes pre-sale beginning August 17. Demolition! marks a turn in the road for Borgo, the singer-songwriter/producer who made his triumphant return to music with Be Kind following a decade long hiatus due to a debilitating neuromuscular disease.

“After releasing Be Kind, I found myself stuck. I needed a band for live performances and recording new material, so I was limited by the availability of other musicians. I had written a lot of new songs and I was eager to get them released! I decided to rework a handful of them...removing vocals, funking up the bass parts, layering psychedelic synth lines... I spent a lot of time working on the mix, the sonic quality. I got the four tracks on Demolition! sounding release ready and decided to put them out as an EP to see what kind of reaction they would get. These are dance songs, party songs, funky grooves with elements of psychedelic riff rock! I have a ferocious drive to create and release music and I am excited about doing it this way; not only composing on the computer, as I did for Be Kind, but doing everything from programming and arranging, right down to the final mix and mastering on my computer. I’m moving away from live instruments out of necessity and that does change things but I strive for organic sounds, nothing too over the top. Demolition! Tear it down and rebuild. I am already working on the next batch of songs!”
